

WALKING ON WATER: A poetry workshop with Sudyé Cauthen

Sunday, May 20, 2012

2pm – 4pm

See, smell, taste, touch, and hear the words. Our poems will skitter, reach out, sing, and shout. We'll taste verbs and smell rhythms. Swimming in language, we will attempt the villanelle and, using music and art, we'll surf the sensuous, line by line.

SUDYE CAUTHEN

A fifth-generation Floridian from Alachua County, Sudyé Cauthen founded the North Florida Center for Documentary Studies, Inc. in 1997 after completing a M. A. in Southern Studies at the University of Mississippi's Center for the Study of Southern Culture. In Florida, Cauthen has taught writing in both Poetry- and Fiction-in-the-Schools as well as at the University of Central Florida, Florida State University, and community colleges near her home on the Suwannee River at White Springs. Her writing awards include two State of Florida Individual Artist Fellowships in Literature and a Glimmer Train award for fiction. Her prizewinning poetry, fiction, and non-fiction have appeared in many publications, including The Chattahoochee Review, Florida Review, International Quarterly, Kalliope, The Old Florida Journal, and The New Encyclopedia of Southern Culture. Cauthen's first book, SOUTHERN COMFORTS: Rooted in a Florida Place won a Florida Book Award. She is now at work completing a second memoir, All The Pretty Cattle, and The Place of Our Remembrance, a documentary work incorporating oral histories and interviews. A book of fiction, THE SALVATION OF MAGGIE RIDER: Stories from Nokofia, was published in 2010.
